JURY FINDS A VERDICT

KILLED BY SHOTS FROM RUSSIAN WAR VESSEL

Text of Verdict of Coroner's Jury Investigating the North Sea Tragedy—Russia Not Represented at Hearing.

Hull, England, Nov. 2.—"That George Henry Smith and William Leggett, at about 12:30 a. m. et. 22, while out fishing with trawls aboard the British steam trawler Crane, with the board of steam trawls exhibited and regulation lights burning, were killed by shots fired with or without warning or provocation from a certain Russian war vessel at a distance of about a quarter of a mile."

This is the text of the jury's verdict at the coroner's inquest on the fishermen victims of the North Sea tragedy. At the request of the British government, represented by the earl of Dysart, solicitor of the treasury, this award was rendered by the first court of inquiry proceeding the sessions of the international tribunal. The government asked the jury not to find a verdict of willful murder or manslaughter because "delicate negotiations are going on which should not be made more difficult; and they ought not to let any one prejudice the case before having heard both sides."

In consequence the jury simply set forth the facts proved by the evidence of physicians, experts on explosives and the trawlers themselves. The British government, board of trade, owners of the gamecock fleet and relatives of the deceased and wounded fishermen were represented by counsel, but the Russian government did not participate. The testimony consisted of medical evidence, by which it was proved the death of Smith and Leggett was the result of shell and machine gun wounds; then an expert identified fragments of shells by private marks, which he said were undoubtedly Russian, and the stories of captains and mates of the trawlers. These latter related that while they were engaged in their regular work ships of the battle fleet in two squadrons emerged suddenly from the haze and, throwing the glare of their searchlights on the gamecock fleet, without warning and disregarding the flare of green lights—fisherman's signal, and though within actual speaking distance of one vessel, commenced a cannonade, which the fishermen, at first not realizing the danger, enjoyed, thinking it was a sham fight. The firing lasted half an hour. To each of the witnesses was put the vital question regarding the presence of a foreign vessel or torpedo boat. Each with equal positiveness denies that any time preceding or during the firing was any Japanese, British or foreign vessel seen by them or accompanying the fighting fleet. It was also stated there were no Japanese among the crews and that none of the trawlers carried arms of any description. One of the skipper's, replying to a question by the coroner, said that, during the five weeks he was in the North Sea he had not seen any warships until that night.

This closed the evidence. Counsel of the treasury then gave the suggestion with regard to the nature of the verdict, with which the coroner agreed, and without delay it was returned, with an added expression of sympathy for the relatives and friends of the dead and injured and of appreciation of the "calm and courageous manner in which the fishing fleet remained at its duties after the terrible experience."

London, Nov. 3.—Morning newspapers consider the fact that Russia was not represented at the coroner's inquest at Hull as virtual admission of her inability to controvert the fishermen's plain unvarnished story of the North Sea affair. It is reported the channel, Mediterranean and East Indian squadrons have received instructions to shadow Rojastevsky's fleet throughout its progress. A British man-of-war at Malta is busily coaling preparing to watch the Baltic squadron.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—The Associated Press can authoritatively announce the basis for the British-Russian agreement to submit the North Sea incident to a commission issues an amicable settlement without a sequel. The understanding is complete. Now that the smoke has cleared away, it is possible to state Great Britain had no intention of trying to detain the Russian squadron, which could only be interpreted as a hostile act. It was never intended to Russia that Rojastevsky's recall would be demanded and Great Britain never asked Russia to pledge herself to punishment of any one. So far as future complications are concerned the incident is regarded as closed.

It is now regarded as almost certain the commission will sit in Paris and be composed of five naval officers, one Russian, one British, each power to choose another member and the four to select the fifth. There is strong intimation Great Britain will invite Admiral Dewey to be one of the commissioners.

RUSSIAN OFFICERS.
Paris, Nov. 2.—Three officers of the Russian squadron, Captain Clado and Lieutenants Otto and Ellis, the principal Russian witnesses in the North Sea incident, reached here today and after a call on the Russian embassy left for St. Petersburg. They declined to make any public statement relative to the affair until Rojastevsky's report, which is entrusted to Clado, has been delivered in St. Petersburg. It can be stated their visit more than ever satisfies Russian authorities that the presence of two Japanese torpedo boats was a positive fact.

WON POOL CHAMPIONSHIP.
St. Louis, Nov. 2.—Alfred DeOro, of New York city, to night won the pool championship of the world by defeating Jerome R. Keogh, of Buffalo N. Y., 125 to 120 in the final game of the play-off of the three-cornered tie for first place.

Colburn, Jr., son of Judge Colburn, president of the Cripple Creek Mine Owners' association, has been deported from camp by miners and warned never to return. It is presumed the deportation was in consequence of his father's active participation in the fight against the Western Federation of Miners in Colorado.

RESERVOIR BURSTS
And Many Lives Lost in North Carolina Town.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 2.—A report reached here that a reservoir at Winston has burst. Loss of life is said to be large. The cause of the disaster was owing to overflow of the reservoir, one of the brick walls collapsing, which released a million and a half gallons of water. Thirteen residences were destroyed, the occupants of which were mostly negroes. Rescuing parties are working heroically in hopes of saving many known to have been carried down by the rushing waters.

JAPANESE RAIDERS.
London, Nov. 3.—The Mail in a letter from Hakodate describes Japanese schooners are returning with valuable cargoes of furs, the result of raiding Russian fishing stations at Kamchatka, Commander and other island rookeries. There had been fierce fighting with Russians and many were killed on both sides. In one case after a fight lasting three days, Russians captured three Japanese vessels, killing half their crews and taking the remainder prisoners.

MARTIN-PHIPS WEDDING.
London, Nov. 2.—Helen Phipps, daughter of Henry Phipps, of Pittsburgh, and Bradley Martin, Jr., were married to day at Kiltarity parish church in Vernes-shire, Scotland, by the archdeacon of London, Dr. Sinclair. The ceremony was largely attended.

MINERS KILLED.
Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 2.—During the lowering of mine at Auchincloss shaft of the Lackawanna company at Nanticoke to day a steel cable broke and a carriage with ten men dropped to the bottom of the shaft. All were killed.

PHYSICIANS PRESCRIBE IT.

ANXIETY AT ST. PETERSBURG

LITTLE NEWS RECEIVED FROM MUKDEN

Reports From Port Arthur Are Decidedly Gloomy—Endurance of Heroic Garrison Almost at an End.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—There is considerable anxiety here over the military situation. Little news has been received from Mukden. Sakharoff's telegram of Nov. 1 merely indicating that matters were at a deadlock around Shakh. The Japanese have made some tentative moves on both flanks, which were checked, but there are no signs yet of a general advance by their army.

Foreign reports from Port Arthur are decidedly gloomy. While authorities continue to profess confidence in Suessel's ability to hold out, popular feeling is that the heroic garrison, which already has made a historic defense, must now be near the limit of human endurance.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—Official reports from Tokyo describing desperate assaults on Port Arthur, beginning Oct. 26, have created visible depression at the war office. Military authorities are convinced that after long preparations General Nogi is not only making a supreme effort to carry the forts, but feels so confident of success that preliminary operations have been made public. It is believed the assault was timed for announcement of the fall of the fortress to be made upon the birthday of the mikado to morrow, which, by a strange coincidence, is the tenth anniversary of accession of Emperor Nicholas and a great Russian holiday. To morrow is expected to be marked by fate for a day of immense rejoicing either for Japan or Russia, according as the present assault succeeds or fails.

The war office is trying to buoy up Russian hopes with reference to the long and successful defense. Lieutenant General Suessel has thus far conducted.

Tokio, Nov. 2.—Official reports of Port Arthur operations since Aug. 1 form a record of almost continuous fighting of a desperate nature. The Russians first struggled desperately to block every Japanese advance, but they met artillery fire of the Japanese. Latterly the Russians have been constantly making sorties. They rushed into Japanese trenches and engaged in ferocious struggles with the mikado's soldiers. With desperate courage the Japanese continued to close in upon the fortress, progressing stage by stage. The Japanese infantry never failed to respond when asked to make an assault on an almost impossible position and when troops gained a foothold they generally held it with unflinching determination.

Okta's Headquarters, Tuesday, Nov. 1.—There is little change in position of the armies. On Sunday a detachment of Russian infantry and Cossacks attacked Japanese cavalry along the Han river, but were driven back, leaving twenty dead soldiers and thirty horses.

HE COULD HARDLY GET UP.
P. H. Duffy, of Ashley, Ill., writes: "This is to certify that I have taken two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and that it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies, but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before commencing its use I was in such shape that I could hardly get up when once down. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store."

Isolating Infectious Diseases.
In isolating an infectious case all articles of no particular value which have been employed in the sickroom are burned. Articles which cannot be burned are kept in a closet inside the danger line until they can be disinfected. Articles which are washable are dipped immediately into water, charged with disinfectant, of which there are many patent preparations as well as the old-fashioned remedy of carbolic acid in solution. Over the door is tacked a sheet, like a curtain, and this should be sprinkled regularly with a simple disinfectant. All dishes, utensils, etc., used in the sickroom should be kept separate and washed apart from the articles employed for the rest of the family. Articles of food left by the patient should be burned or sprinkled with carbolic solution and buried underground.

Apple Pudding.
A delicious pudding is made by lining bottom and sides of a pudding mold with rounds of bread which have had one side dipped in melted butter. Arrange the pieces with the buttered sides next the dish. Fill the cavity with chopped apples, raisins and almonds, seasoned with sugar and spice. Cover the top with buttered bread crumbs, and bake until the apples are tender and the top is brown. Turn from the mold and serve with hard sauce.

COAL PRICES ADVANCE.
Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 2.—Prices of all grades of coal have been advanced 35 cents a ton, the result of increased demand for coal and the strike of engineers in Illinois.

CUBA EXHIBITION CAR COMING

Interesting Exhibition in a Palace Car Will Be in the City Tomorrow.

"Cuba on Wheels," an exhibition car which represents the bureau of immigration and department of agriculture of Cuba, and is enroute from the St. Louis fair, will exhibit in this city at the Chicago & Alton station from Friday until Monday night.

The feature that attracts considerable attention is the exhibition of relics from the battleship Maine, including the masted light draped with the American flag, an electric register from Captain Sigsbee's cabin, a ladder that never fails to awaken an exclamation, "carbines and other articles seen on a man-of-war."

Different woods of the country are shown, which are valued from $75 to $400 per thousand feet. There are over fifty varieties of tropical fruits. The manufacturers' exhibit includes banana flour, Cuban shoes, furs valued at $100, Cuban furniture, dress goods made out of pineapple fibre, and various other articles, the like of which we do not see in America.

Fishermen who are prone to boast about their catches will be taken aback at the sight of a 130-pound tarpon, caught in Havana bay, the porcupine fish and dozens of fish of ridiculous names and shapes. Youthful visitors are always interested in the sea turkey, with web feet, and a jaw of a shark over three feet wide. Samples of soil and minerals will interest prospective investors.

The car is an educational exhibit, and a nominal admission of only 10 cents is charged to defray expenses; to school children in charge of teachers, a special rate of 5 cents is made. The car is open from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m.

IMPERIALISM AND BIG ARMY

QUESTIONS DISCUSSED BY JUDGE PARKER

Democratic Candidate Had Busy Evening in New York—Hurred Tour of Connecticut Will Be Made to Day.

New York, Nov. 2.—Judge Parker addressed meetings at Cooper Union and at a Democratic club to night, which was the busiest evening program arranged for him during the campaign. At both meetings the candidate was given great ovations and at the reception following nearly every member of the club and many invited guests shook hands with him. Judge Parker will make a hurried tour of Connecticut to morrow. Other speakers at Cooper Union were Carl Schurz, the presidential officer, George Von Skul and Sigmund Zedler, of Chicago. All addresses were in German except Parker's.

Judge Parker's speech was devoted entirely to questions of imperialism and big army and navy. He said that the tendency toward imperialism in our government took tangible shape when this republic assumed power to rule over distant and alien countries and populations, not only without their consent, but distinctly against their will, and when correspondingly the principles and ideals we had inherited from the founders of the republic gave way to ideas as to powers of our government which differed widely from Abraham Lincoln's conception of a democracy, that it was a "government of the people, for the people, and by the people."

When we annexed the Philippines it was done not only with complete disregard of the rights and wishes of the people thereof, but also with a hardly less absolute disregard of our political institutions. The annexation of the islands and subjection by force of the Philippines fighting for their independence were as different from the intention of the fathers as government by superior artillery is from government by consent of the governed.

When we contemplate the moral effect of the policy of conquest and subjection as it has been carried on and is now defended by the Republican party, we cannot but feel serious anxiety as to the permanency of democratic institutions among us. The great principles proclaimed by the declaration of independence, that "government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed," stand substantially unquestioned among us until the imperialistic policy of conquest and arbitrary rule over the conquered was entered upon. It was recognized as the very essence of democratic institutions. Now it is scoffed at by many leaders of the Republican party as a "glittering generalization" that has no practical meaning and application; as baby talk fit for the infancy of this nation, but ridiculous in the present state of power. Indeed, it is perfectly logical for them to deride and reject it if they mean to justify and maintain their policy of conquest and domination.

The speaker declared the imperialistic tendency is already beginning to appear. He said that the utterance of a number of the administration's steps very little short of admitting us that every public discussion of the subject—unless it be in entire harmony with the policy of the administration—should stop, for the reason it might excite hopes among our "subjects" which the administration is unwilling to gratify. This is only an initial, tentative attempt to dominate public opinion in behalf of the government. But there will be more of it if the imperialistic spirit is permitted to prevail.

Parker then discussed the Panama question, holding that the president exceeded his constitutional powers in that affair.

The army and navy were next considered, the speaker arguing that large war establishments is unnecessary. In support of this contention he cited the case of Venezuela, when quoting from a recent statement of Secretary Taft that Cleveland brought us to the brink of war when we had but one big gun mounted for coast defense. Still Great Britain assented to President Cleveland's suggestion that the matter be submitted to arbitration. He said the lesson of this is not that we need big armies and navies for the defense of our rights and enforcement of our just demands, but that whether we are armed or unarmed every European power, even to the greatest and proudest, will go to the very extreme of possible concession to avoid a serious quarrel with this republic. "I ask you in all soberness, is it not best for the peace, well being and happiness of our people and for the preservation of our free institutions, to which we owe so much of our growth in comfort, wealth and power, that instead of indulging our ambition in the adventurous policy of empire and domination over foreign countries and alien populations; instead of squandering our substance in wholly unnecessary war establishments at an immense cost; instead of sacrificing the great conservative principles and high ideals we inherited from the fathers to the false glitter of imperial greatness, which at all periods of human history has marked the decay and perdition of a republic; instead of provoking distrust of all mankind by the display of an armed force on every possible occasion, which raises a suspicion of vague and hazardous schemes of restless ambition lurking in the background—we should return to the principles and ideals which during the first century of our national existence have proved as just and beneficent as that government of the people and by the people and for the people may not perish from the earth?"

Parker was then driven to Carnegie hall, where he addressed a meeting under the auspices of the West Side Parker Independent club.

Carl Schurz in his speech as chairman before the arrival of Parker denounced what he termed was corruption of the administration.

"When a money power pays a political power to continue its control," he said, "and a political party loves blackmail for this protection to remain in control of offices, that is corruption—and only will be stopped when healthy public conscience puts a halt to this system, in default of which degeneration of public morals will proceed in shameless haste in the presidency and congressional seats; in other words, total rotteness."

FAIRBANKS' INDIANA TOUR

THIRTEEN CITIES VISITED YESTERDAY

Closes Day With Evening Meeting at Lafayette—Secretary Shaw Joined Party as Logansport—Question Discussed.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 2.—From Michigan City to Lafayette Senator Fairbanks' train to day stopped at thirteen different points. In his first speech, at Michigan City, the senator referred pointedly to the charges against Chairman Cortelyou contained in the recent speeches of Judge Parker. All of the senator's addresses were warmly applauded. At Logansport Secretary Shaw joined the party and afterward Senator Fairbanks addressed an evening meeting at Lafayette. Senator Fairbanks said in part:

"The question is whether Democratic policies or Republican policies are to be preferred. It is upon that question we must pronounce our judgment. There are many questions of great interest which are to be solved and which will have a very important bearing upon our future welfare. It is important, therefore, to entrust the management of our national affairs to a party that has been able successfully to meet the great problems which are back of us, for it is liable to be better able to meet and discharge questions which lie in our future pathway. The Democratic party in the last seven years has done much in the way of obstruction. That is not an unusual role for the Democratic party to assume."

"In the last seven years we have been confronted with great problems. We have had to deal with the tariff and with the currency question. We have dealt with these questions in an intelligent and successful way. We have not had the aid of the Democratic party. It has stood in sharp protest against every step we have taken in our national development. We have had great foreign problems and we have been opposed by our Democratic friends when we have come to deal with them. We have had to consider the question of the Isthmian canal in order that we might increase the national defense and promote the commerce of the United States. The Republican party believes in building up the home market in order that we may expand our industries in order that we may give work and wages to the great army of workmen in the United States. We believe in developing our home market in order that we may bring prosperity to the farm. We believe in having a market where the farmer may sell his products. We have been giving a good deal of attention to the foreign market and we have felt that one way to expand it was through the construction of the Isthmian canal."

Secretary Shaw's address was largely devoted to an exposition of the benefits which he said would accrue to the producers of the country from a continuance of the policy of protection.

SECRETARY TAFT.
Albany, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Secretary Taft spoke here to night in defense of the administration's course in the Philippines, producing statistics to prove the correctness of Democratic assertions regarding the cost of the islands. Concerning the recent letter of H. Parker Willis regarding the Philippines, he said it was refuted by statistics and he was refuted by the fact that Willis was a violent anti-imperialist, whose mind was made up of bias and prejudices. In conclusion he asked whether the people would accept the statement of Willis, who had spent but four months in the islands, or of Governor Wright, who had lived there and studied them for five years.

New York, Nov. 3.—At 1:30 this morning (Thursday) it was reported Minister Takahira's condition was distinctly improved.

WESTERN UNION IMPROVEMENTS.

A force of eight Western Union Telegraph company's linemen have arrived in the city and will begin the work of reconstructing a portion of their lines in this city. The work was decided upon about a year ago, but work elsewhere has been so urgent that they were unable to get at it.

The contemplated improvements include the re-setting of the poles and re-placing of the wires between the office on West State street and the Wabash railroad. All the old wires will be torn out and will be replaced with three cables of nineteen conductors each.

The improvements will take over a month for their completion.

CORN EXPERIMENTS.

The plots that have been in corn continuously for twenty-eight years at the University of Illinois have been harvested this fall. The untreated part shows a yield of twenty-seven bushels per acre. The part right beside the above and which has had a corn-oats-clover rotation for twenty-eight years, produced fifty-four bushels of corn. The part which has been in clover pasture for the ten years previously, yielded seventy-four bushels of corn per acre; and a part of this last plot which had been treated with lime and phosphorus for three years produced ninety-six bushels per acre. This ground was all alike originally; the same seed was planted on it all; it was planted at the same date and received like cultivation. The differences are simply the result of the different ways of treating the land or letting it run down by continuous corn growing. This is a valuable experiment.

A FRACTIOUS HORSE.

As Rex Brittenham was bringing his father's dinner to the Morris poultry house Wednesday noon, he met with an accident, which might have had serious consequences. He was riding his wheel on Hardin avenue, when he met a farmer driving a buggy, and he turned to the right side to pass him. But, just as he was in the act of turning, a colt belonging to the farmer jumped in front of him and caused him to turn out on the left side, which was very near to one of the horses. The horse being of a wild disposition, became frightened at the wheel and began to kick. The boy was injured to some extent and his bicycle was considerably damaged.

THE ALTON has issued a folder, entitled "SIX DAYS AT THE WORLD'S FAIR," that is of great interest to those who expect to attend; as it tells how to spend the time to the best advantage in seeing the fair in one week. Get one of them before starting and don't forget that THE ONLY WAY to the GREAT FAIR is via THE ALTON.

For County Surveyor, MANSELL DUDLEY.

All remember that the polls will open at 7 a. m. and close at 5 p. m. election day. Look in the Journal and see where to vote.

There is a good show for the Republican county and legislative ticket if all Republicans will do their best, get out and do their duty.

Polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. election day. Vote early and see that your Republican neighbor does the same.

Industry and vigilance will produce grand results at the coming election. The people will not be in haste to set aside favorable conditions for Democratic uncertainty.

The Republican county and legislative ticket is one that deserves hearty support from all classes of voters. There are on it men who are first class in all respects and will serve their constituents to the best of their ability.

The name of Charles S. Dennen is a tower of strength among those who know him best. In the great county of Cook he has fearlessly enforced the laws regardless of favoritism and has gained a very enviable reputation in the estimation of fair minded citizens. He will have a large vote for governor and so will the men nominated with him.

Keep well in mind the names of the men on the Republican ticket and speak a good word for them when you have a chance. Frank J. Heinl and Charles Fetzer for the legislature; Bert VanWinkle for state's attorney; Charles L. Hayden for circuit clerk; J. H. Delong for superintendent of schools; Dr. J. H. Spencer for coroner; George Detrick for county commissioner; Mansell Dudley for surveyor. All good men who should have a majority of the ballots.

Frank E. Dooling, Democratic candidate for secretary of state, is making a canvass which will hardly commend itself to a man of honor. He has been using, or trying to use, the Springfield Federation of Labor, and now he makes use of his position in the Modern Woodmen of America and the Court of Honor to further his cause. These orders are strictly non-political and an attempt to use them to advance the interests of any political candidate is dishonorable. Republican members of these orders will not be influenced by Mr. Dooling's circulars and letters, and Democratic members will not be any more kindly inclined to him.

A Democratic candidate was in the county not long ago, and seeing some good looking nuts under a tree proceeded to gather some, when the owner of the land told him they were not good, but the politician replied that they'd sell well anyhow. This is about the style and substance of the present Democratic campaign. Anything to sell well with the voters. When a man talks about the oppression of the Filipinos and urges immediate or early independence, he shows himself to be an ignoramus or something worse. When he talks about reducing the army it is the same. When he calls Roosevelt unsafe, it is worse. Not a positive principle has the opposition to offer. All that can be said is "we are opposed to."

Compared with Judge Parker, how Theodore Roosevelt looms up as a man of large intellect, commanding presence and possessing wise and successful statesmanship. He comes forward in a manly way and states his position on the great questions of the day and tells why he believes as he does. He offers something constructive and straightforward and gives a reason for his position. Judge Parker is a man who has nothing positive to advance. He meekly gets up and says what his masters tell him to say and makes himself ridiculous every time he opens his mouth. He makes statements that an intelligent child can refute, and descends to the level of a common scoundrel. The more speeches he makes like the last one the better for the Republican party.

NOT POSSIBLE, NEIGHBOR
The Journal this morning says so. It is a lie. The betting is three and four to one on Roosevelt, that should only stimulate each man in the Republican party to work all the harder. Can it be possible that the editor of the Journal has been placing money on the election?—Courier.

No sir, the writer never bet a cent on an election, but many are doing so and they are rather able guessers too, and when they put up four to one on Roosevelt it shows what their opinion is of the result, anyhow.

MATRIMONIAL

JONES-WALTMAN.
William Y. Jones and Miss Johanna Waltman were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. F. Short at his residence on West State street. The young couple are well known and highly respected in this city and in the surrounding country. They will receive their friends at the home of the bride's parents west of the city for a few weeks, after which they will go to Missouri to reside.
BIGGS-BENNETT.

Leroy Biggs and Miss Frances A. Bennett, both of this city, were married Wednesday night, about 9:30 o'clock by Rev. R. F. Thripp at his residence.

Mr. Biggs is a son of John D. Biggs and is a painter by trade. He has always borne the reputation of being an honest and industrious young man.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Alice Bennett, of Morton avenue, and is a young lady of many charming characteristics.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggs will be at home on Morton avenue.

DAWSON-DUNN.
A quiet, but very pretty wedding took place at Centenary Methodist Episcopal church parsonage Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Wilder officiating. The happy couple were Franklin Dawson, of Petersburg, and Miss Kathryn Dunn, of Mercedia. The groom is a well known horse buyer and the bride attended the Woman's college of this city last year.

COUDY-CRUM.
George E. Coudy, of Madison, Ill., and Miss Martha Crum, of this county, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents near Prentice Wednesday. The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. F. Short at 12 o'clock, noon, in the presence of a limited number of the bride's relatives and friends.

After the ceremony an elaborate wedding dinner was served. The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with autumn leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Coudy received many presents, which were both useful and ornamental, and which showed the esteem in which they were held by their many friends.

The groom is one of Madison's most respected young men and is a gentleman in the true sense of the word.

The bride is the daughter of one of the highly respected farmers of Prentice and is a young lady of many accomplishments.

They have the good wishes of a host of friends, who wish them happiness in their married life. They will take a tour through Old Mexico for a few weeks before returning to Madison, where the groom has provided a home.

"SANDY BOTTOM."

One of the greatest successes of the present season is John Crittenden Webb's beautiful play, "Sandy Bottom," which is underlined for the Grand opera house to night. Possibly the truest standard by which to judge a play is to watch the impression it makes upon an audience. While the author naturally desires the approval of the critical few, it is the verdict of the many which makes or mars. Measured by the rule of the majority, "Sandy Bottom," which will be given at the Grand, is a successful play and destined to linger in pleasurable memory.

JOINT MEETING.

The Woman's club and the Domestic Science Round Table will meet to gether at the Illinois Woman's college Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The subject, "Flour, Yeast and Bread," will be presented by Miss Bedford. This subject will be treated in a theoretical manner, differing entirely from the lecture on bread in the series of cooking lessons. Miss Bedford will conduct a short demonstration at the close of the lecture.

READ THIS.
Jacksonville, Ill., Sept. 25, 1902.—Nearly three years ago, with a second attack of serious illness, I was surprised to learn that I had diabetes. Presumably I was told to prepare a bottle of Dr. E. W. Hall's Great Discovery for Kidney and Bladder Troubles, known as THE TEXAS WONDER. Less than half of the bottle effected a complete cure and I have since been able to live as usual. I believe it to be a medicine of very great value.

HE GOT HIS CIGAR

Sherman Blake Went Ten Miles for It But Is Happy now.

Sherman Blake's friends were surprised to see him on the street yesterday, as when he left for his camp a week ago, he said that Jacksonville would know him no more for a month. His unexpected appearance is explained by the fact that he ran out of Wadsworth Bros.' Cigars, and had to come to Armstrong & Armstrong to get another box.

As he expressed it, "canning without a Cigars to smoke is like lemonade without a lemon, and even though I had to come ten miles to get my cigar, I am happy now." While he said this, he looked the personification of contentment, letting a long whirl of fragrant Havana smoke float upward. Armstrong & Armstrong have just received another shipment of Wadsworth Bros.' Cigars and want all who like a good cigar, better than most ten cent cigars, to try a Cigars and see how well pleased they will be for half the money, as it retails for a straight five cents.

To the Voters of the Forty-Fifth Senatorial District:

We are the candidates on the Republican ticket for members of the general assembly from Sangamon and Morgan counties. Having been nominated but two weeks, we regret exceedingly that it is impossible on account of lack of time for us to meet personally the voters of the district.

If elected, we will endeavor to represent the interests of the whole district and make useful members of the legislature.

We promise if elected to give our best efforts to the duties of the office of representative from this district. We trust that the voters of the district will look with favor upon our candidacy. Your truly,

Charles Fetzer,
Frank J. Heinl.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Wabash Confiscates Coal—Other Notes of Local Interest.

The coal strike has alarmed the railroads, and they have begun to prepare for a shortage of that necessary article by confiscating coal being delivered to their patrons. Tuesday morning the Wabash took possession of three cars, one of which had been partially unloaded, which belonged to J. W. York, and were standing on his sidetrack. Mr. York had already paid the freight on the coal and had begun to unload it, and he promptly protested to headquarters, with the result that the coal was returned to him Wednesday morning.

TRINITY RECEPTION

New Minister and His Family Greeted by His Parishioners.

A reception was given in Trinity hall Wednesday evening by the members of the parish for their new pastor, Rev. William Mitchell, and his wife and daughter, Miss Adele. A large number of the members were present and warmly greeted their new minister and his family.

The affair was in charge of the vestrymen and their wives, and nothing was lacking to make it a success in every particular. The evening was spent in a delightful way socially, and all who had not yet met Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and their daughter were given the opportunity to become acquainted with them. Coffee and sandwiches were served by the young ladies of the church.

The new rector of Trinity will prove a worthy addition to the literary, as well as the ministerial circles of the city, and will be given a hearty welcome. He is a man who possesses the scholarly attainments to a marked degree, and is withal a pleasant and sociable gentleman. His worthy wife and accomplished daughter will also receive a warm welcome and their residence in the city promises to be pleasant for all concerned. They are accompanied by Miss Essie, Miss Mitchell's private instructor, and she was also given a pleasant greeting.

"EGYPTA." Electricity plays an important part in the production of "Egypta," which will be produced at the Grand next week. One marvelous illusion is that of the "Pillar of Fire" leading the Hebrews through the wilderness. It appears to be a veritable volcano of flames shooting upward. Another effect is that of rippling water flowing between the banks of the Nile beneath the shadows of the grain old sphinx and lofty pyramids. The first shipment of scenery will arrive this week and contains a number of the magnificent special settings. "The Vision of Angels" is possibly one of the most impressive.

"SIBERIA." "Siberia," which will be presented by William A. Brady and Joseph R. Grismer at the Grand Friday, Nov. 4, has just closed a successful engagement at MeVicker's theatre in Chicago. When seen here it will include everything used on the stage in Chicago. Nothing will be left undone to make this engagement one of the important productions of the local season.

The massacre of Jews at Kishinoff will be made a powerful scene and will include a vast number of supernumeraries. The military display in the governor's palace will call into play regular soldiers who know the manual of the army. This scene is most picturesque, as the different costumes of the officers and soldiers make it most striking.

The old Bartley Campbell story stands out strongly. It pictures the misfortunes of Sara and Marie, the daughters of David Janowsky, a Hebrew merchant, who is killed in the massacre. Marie is abducted and made a prisoner in the governor's palace and in their attempts to rescue her, Sara and Marie's husband and a servant are arrested and later sentenced to Siberia. Nicolai Naigoff, a young revolutionist, and the sweetheart of Sara, accompanies them as a private in the guard and is instrumental in starting a revolt that frees the prisoners. They make their way to Odessa and as they are about to be apprehended an official higher than the villainous one who causes four acts of trouble appears as their savior.

RU'N'AWAY ACCIDENT. An accident happened on West Morgan street about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, which came very near proving serious. As Percy Owens and Miss Edna Pratt were driving along on that street they passed another vehicle. The horse attached to the stranger's rig became frightened and ran into Miss Pratt's vehicle, tearing one of the front wheels to pieces and doing considerable other damage. They managed to stop the horse and the results might have been more serious.

STRINGER CRIES OF NON-SUPPORT

Democratic Candidate Com- plains Because Party En- thusiasm Is Lacking.

REASON IS VERY APPARENT

Local Leaders Will Not Uphold Ticket Named at Spring- field Convention.

Outrages Perpetrated by the Hopkins- Quinn Aggregation Have Alien- ated the Interest of Honest Men.

The Hon. Lawrence B. Stringer, Democratic candidate for governor of the state of Illinois, is heard to complain of the lack of enthusiasm displayed in his behalf by men who have always been known as Democrats and of their apparent reluctance to take part in demonstrations in his honor. This is said, of course, but not hard to account for. Mr. Stringer is a man of more than average intelligence and ability, and has never been accused of picking pockets or robbing graves—but

He was nominated by a faction com- posed largely of Chicago things and por- celains—men whom William Jennings Bryan dignified by the title of "train rob- bers"—by the very simple process of elim- inating all the other candidates for nomi- nation in the convention deliberately trampled upon the rights of the honest and un- speckable Frank Quinn at the dictation of the unscrupulous John P. Hopkins.

He was nominated on a platform that was openly hooted and ridiculed by a ma- jority of the delegates to the convention that purported to adopt it—a platform paradoxical in the fact that it prated of equal rights for all and special privileges to none; for reforms of all kinds and de- cency in politics, while the dominant fac- tion in the convention deliberately trampled upon the rights of the honest and un- speckable Frank Quinn at the dictation of the unscrupulous John P. Hopkins.

Surely Mr. Stringer cannot expect the delegates who were thus chiseled out of their rights—who were bound and gagged and spat upon—to be en- thusiastic in his support. Surely he knows that each of these men represented 400 of the Democrats of the county from which he came, and that each of these groups of 400 Democrats, if they have red blood in their veins, and most of them have, will and do re- sent the indignities heaped upon their chosen representatives in that conven- tion.

A moment's reflection will convince Mr. Stringer that he is getting all the support that he can reasonably expect under the circumstances, and that were it not for a natural desire upon the part of the Democrats to make some show of activity for the purpose of holding their organization together for future campaigns, he would be getting less.

The Hon. L. B. Stringer is having pretty hard sledding, we admit, but he is only reaping that which he helped to sow.

MR. STRINGER IS NOT CONSISTENT

Course Now Is Opposite to That As- sumed by Him in the Senate.

Lawrence Stringer keeps asserting that the great state of Illinois is fast going to the demitition bow-wows, and that unless he is elected governor it will soon be past redemption. This discovery he has made since his nomi- nation. He was for four years in the state senate, and yet in all that time he exposed nonmanagement of state institutions or laid bare any malfeasance in office. But now that he is John P. Hopkins' gravel-made nominee for governor he sees nothing but misman- agement and malfeasance everywhere.

Facts seem to have little weight with him, and they find no place in his unceasing screed. But he should re- member that of the seventy physicians employed in the benevolent institutions of the state not over a dozen were changed during Governor Yates' ad- ministration, and these mostly through resignation; that while girls and others are employed it is only as assistants and in very subordinate capacities, and that the charitable institutions of Illi- nois are equal in efficiency and econ- omy to those of any other state.

And as to the financial condition of affairs, he should remember, and should so state if he discusses the mat- ter at all, that while there was a bal- ance in the state treasury under At- titude of only $250,000, there was a bal- ance under Tanner of $2,103,000, and under Yates a balance of $3,180,000. These figures do not seem to show that there has been much peculation or stealing going on under Republican administrations, or that there has been any lack of economy or good manage- ment.

Why does not Mr. Stringer give the facts in his speeches, instead of indulg- ing in mere insinuations and vague platitudes?

PERSONAL

Ex-Governor Murray Crane of Mas- sachusetts, appointed to the vacancy caused by the death of United States Senator Hoar, began life as a rag- picker.

VOTER, ATTENTION!

Don't forget to vote on the pro- posed constitutional amendment which will enable the legislature to grant Chicago a new charter, or on the six propositions which will be included with it on the "Little Bal- lot." No one who votes at all will forget to vote for presidential elect- ors, or for state and county officers of course not. That is what the election is for. But it is not all that it is for. The charter amendment and the six propositions are also to be voted on at the election on the 8th of November. Some of these measures are of great importance, for example, the amendment rela- tive to the new charter for the city of Chicago, and the proposition re- questing the legislature to pass a primary law which shall enable voters to vote, under the Australian ballot and under legal supervision, for those whom they want their party to put in nomination. These two measures are of especial importance, but the other propositions should also receive such attention as the voters deem them worthy of.

The charter amendment and the six propositions will be printed on a separate ballot. It will be called the "Little Ballot." But this year it will really be a very big ballot. Let it not be overlooked. And let each voter remember that a failure to vote on the amendment is practi- cally a vote against it. There must be a majority of all the votes cast at the election, and not simply a ma- jority of all the votes cast on the amendment, to secure the amend- ment's adoption. Therefore, let every voter who favors the amend- ment put in a ballot which says so, and which will count in its favor, and not vote against it by neglecting to vote at all.

REPUBLICAN RULE MAKES PROSPERITY

Policies Put into Effect by the Party Are Always Productive of Good Times.

There has been an assumption on the part of the gold Democrats and an admission from some other Democrats that the prosperity of the last few years is due to the great amount of gold mined in the United States, thus giving a large increase to the circu- lation of currency. Undoubtedly this increase of gold has had an effect in in- creasing the prosperity of the country. There can be no doubt that as the amount of money in circulation in- creases the prosperity of the country increases. But it is also true that the increase of the amount of money in cir- culation is not due principally or even primarily to the large amount of gold mined in the country.

It requires but a little examination of trade conditions for the last twelve years to see that it is the large amount of exports that has caused the great increase of money in the country. In the four years ending June 30, 1900, the four years of the Cleveland admin- istration, the excess of exports over imports was a little less than $400,000,000. It was not enough to pay the interest on bonds and the dividends on American stocks held in Europe, and gold had to be exported every year to make up the deficiency. With the ad- ministration of William McKinley and the adoption of the Dingley protec- tive tariff bill there came a change. The first year of his administration, the excess of exports reached almost $300,000,000 and the next year passed the $400,000,000 mark. In the four years of McKinley's first term the total excess of exports over imports was $1,076,000,000, or more than five times as much as in the four years of Cleveland's administration.

This amount of money was poured into the United States to pay its debts to Europe and after doing that there was a handsome balance on hand for reinvestment in the industries of the country. The banks were filled with this money, which, by the act of the Republican party, was all gold or equal to gold.

The manufacturers that received it put it into improvements and enlarge- ments. The banks that had it on de- posit sought means of investing it. Everywhere there was plenty of money that was good money. The farmers felt the impulse that the surplus gave to business and as the holders of the money sought for farm invest- ments farms increased in selling value. Everything that the farmer had sold readily for good prices, whereas under the former administration, with little money in the country, the prices had been low and there had been little demand for the products of the farm. With the money received from the sale of his products the farmer paid the mortgage that the previous years had compelled him to put on his farm and thus the money was started on another round.

This condition can be continued only by a continuation of the policies that produced it. Enact a tariff like that of the Cleveland administration and there would be a decrease in the currency circulation at once. Safety lies in con- serving present conditions by the elec- tion of the Republican ticket.

LABORING MEN MUST BEWARE

Should Carefully Consider Democratic Protestations of Friendship.

PREVIOUS ACTION IS RECALLED

One of the Party's Nominees Is on Record as Hostile to Labor.

Introduced Bill in the Legislature Barring Persons Not Owning Property from Holding Any Office.

To accept the Democratic assertion, the Democratic party is the special friend of the poor man. The party leaders pose as his champion. In their platforms they make loud professions of interest in his welfare; in their speeches they fairly howl for him as though without their protective guar- dianism he would be trampled in the very dust. But what are the facts? Not to speak of the national policies of the two parties, an interesting com- parison might be drawn between the laws of Democratic states designed to secure the poor man's welfare. How is it in the south, where Democratic authority is supreme? Is the laboring man honored and has he his rights safeguarded there as in the north? Or is he largely a "tarheel," a "cracker," "poor white trash," or some other such contemptuous thing? And how is it in the matter of the education of the young? Do Democratic states rank high in school facilities, or does almost any old thing in the way of a school house, a school teacher, or a school term suffice? Everybody knows what the facts are.

Democratic Candidate's Bill.
We are led into this train of thought by recalling a measure advocated in 1895 by the gentleman who is now, as a Democratic candidate, asking the people of Illinois to elect him lieuten- ant governor—Mr. Thomas F. Ferns. That measure was one to restrict the privileges of non-property owners re- specting the holding of office. Mr. Ferns was at that time a member of the lower house of the general as- sembly, where he introduced a bill of which the following is the first sec- tion:

"Be it enacted by the people of the state of Illinois, that no person shall be eligible to any elective office in the state who shall not have been for one year a resident and a bona fide owner of real estate in Illinois within the ter- ritory forming the district from which he is elected."

Point to the Measure.
The point to the bill—the only thing in it which is distinctive—is that no man who does not hold real estate shall hold office in Illinois. How does this comport with Democratic professions of love for the man who is property- less?

It is needless to call attention to the large number of professional men whom this restriction would render in- eligible; its attitude toward laboring men and those of their leaders who are particularly concerned in labor mat- ters is that to which we would direct special attention. What do the work- ingmen think of a candidate who once introduced such a bill as that? Why, under it no poor man could be even a constable, a justice of the peace, an alderman, or a director in a country school, to say nothing of being a member of the legislature.

The "Big Stick."

Let us stick to the "port of Well, Enough, and not cast loose from safe moorings upon an uncertain and un- charted sea under the pilotage of one whose destination seems, because of the few indefinite words he has let fall, a matter of speculation. Let us stick to the proud position the repu- blican occupies in the family of nations, and performances that have made it great and extended the blessings of liberty and enlightenment to other peoples. Let us stick to the principles of pro- tection, sound currency and prepared- ness that have made the people pros- perous, fostered enterprise and lab- or, commanded respect in every corner of the world and made the Monroe doc- trine the recognized law of a hemi- sphere. Let us stick to the building of the Panama canal; stick to the tug and all that it signifies, wherever it may float; stick to a merchant marine that will carry it everywhere; stick to a navy that will make his course secure. Let us stick to a man at the head of national affairs whose principles are known; stick to a party of avowed policies and whose performances keep pace with promises. If we do not neglect our duty as citizens Nov. 8 we will rebuke the big game paraders and the sham democrats of the president with a stick that is indeed

SAID OF DENEEN

One hundred thousand plurality is the pace set for Deneen. He will make it.—Lebanon Journal.

The strenuous life is exemplified in Deneen. His crowds increase as the campaign progresses. He is impress- ing himself on the people of the state as no other man in recent times has done.—Champaign News.

Wanted—Some sort of a campaign story that will injure the chances of candidate Deneen. A liberal reward, will be given for the right kind of a yarn. Almost any old thing will be acceptable. For further particulars address Democratic headquarters, marking the letter "Personal."—Al- bion Journal.

The universal favor with which the speech of Hon. C. S. Deneen has been received indicates that he will receive the votes of a large per cent. of the Democrats. He ought to get the vote of everybody, for no candidate has ever given greater promise of being a governor of all the people than Deneen.—Deatur Herald.

Mr. Deneen is making an active canvass, though this is a concession to the proprietors rather than as an indication that any doubt is felt as to the result. He has made a reputation as a reformer which is helping him, and also ad- vancing the national ticket in this state. There are no factions among the Illi- nois Republicans in 1904. All are sup- porting the party ticket enthusiastically. There is a feeling that it would be well for the party and for the state to at least equal in 1904 the 142,000 plu- rality rolled up for president in 1896. Illinois has lived down the discredit at- taching to her Democratic majorities in 1890 and 1892, but she feels that the occasion demands a pretty big Repub- lican margin this year.—Quincy Whig.

Last month Leonard Boening of Chicago visited at the home of The- odore Hartwig in this city. During a conversation Mr. Boening stated that he lived at Suburb Lake and was a member of the strongest Democratic ward club in the city of Chicago, but that his entire club would vote for Charles S. Deneen for governor. That they admired Mr. Deneen for his hon- orable discharge of the duties in the office of state's attorney of Cook coun- ty, the office he now holds. That Mr. Deneen prosecuted all law breakers fearlessly and was an officer of the whole people in Cook county. His work as state's attorney of Cook coun- ty has been so pleasing to the people of Cook county and the city of Chi- cago, that Mr. Boening stated that the voters of the entire city and coun- ty were going to the polls in November and vote for Charles S. Deneen for governor, regardless of what their party affiliations might have been. They have tried Mr. Deneen as a public of- ficer, found him faithful and they will be for him on the day of Nov. 8. A recommendation coming from his home town and county from a man who is a follower of Democratic principles and voices the sentiment of his entire club in favor of Mr. Deneen, should be a guiding star for the people of the grand old state of Illinois.—Henry Re- publican.

DENEEN AS A SPEAKER

His Plain, Straightforward Arguments Have a Telling Effect Upon His Hearers Everywhere.

Charles S. Deneen has made in the present campaign a very enviable repu- tation as an effective speaker and cam- paigner. So great, indeed, has been his success as a speaker that it has been almost a revelation even to the friends and admirers who knew him well. Everywhere he has left a most favorable impression. Everywhere he has brought people who differed from him in politics to look at questions as he looks at them, and to resolve to vote as he tells them they ought to vote.

He gets results, and this is the true test of a speaker's success. And he does this not by the usual methods to which the spellbinder finds it neces- sary to resort. He employs no arts of oratory, no tricks of elocution, appeals to no mere sentiment, emotion or prej- udice, does not wave the flag, tear passion to tatters, tell funny stories, or do anything to accomplish an ille- gitimate effect. He just simply talks straight on, in a plain, straightforward, strong, earnest and natural way that convinces people that he is an honest man, believes what he says and knows why he believes it.

Columns could be filled with the tributes which the papers of the state have paid him for his qualities as a speaker. Says one: "He is convincing and effective in his arguments." Says another: "His address last night was without exception the ablest and plain- est exposition of political issues ever made before the people of Illinois. It was a remarkable speech." Says a third: "To look upon that firm and honest face is to imbibe confidence, and to hear him talk in his pleasant way, without an attempt at oratory, is to thoroughly believe in him." Says a fourth: "His speeches here won more friends for himself and his party than any other agency yet employed. His personality was of sufficient mag- netism, and his calm, unimpassioned talk was so engaging that it held the audience in closest attention until mid- night." It is needless to continue these testimonials, they could be culled by the hundreds. Everywhere through- out the state, as we have said, the Re- publican papers have been unanimous in characterizing Mr. Deneen as one of the strongest and most effective speakers that ever championed the cause of Republicanism in the state of Illinois.

BETTER THAN PILLS.

The question has been asked—In what way are Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets superior to the ordinary cathartic and liver pills? Our answer is—They are easier and more pleasant to take and their effect is so gentle and so agreeable that one hardly realizes that it is produced by a medicine. Then they not only move the bowels but im- prove the appetite and aid the diges- tion. For sale at 25 cents per bottle by all leading druggists.

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR CATARRH.

Just Breathe Hyomei Four Times a Day and Be Cured.
If a few years ago some one had said you can cure catarrh by breathing air charged with healing balsams, the idea would have been ridiculed and it remained for that eminent investigator, R. T. Booth, to discover in Hyomei this method of cure.

Hyomei has performed almost miraculous cures of catarrh, and it is today recognized by leading members of the medical profession as the only advertised remedy that can be relied upon to do just what it claims. The complete outfit of Hyomei costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei.

Rev. J. B. Cook, of Holliston, Mass., says: "My wife has suffered greatly from catarrh for fifteen years.
Nearly four weeks ago she commene-d to use Hyomei and the beneficial effect was immediate. It is very seldom that she needs to clear her head and throat and she is able to rest quietly at night."

Breathe Hyomei through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day and it will cure the worst case of catarrh. It soothes and heals the mucous membrane of the air passages, prevents irritation, and effects a complete and lasting cure.

In Jacksonville there are scores of well known people who have been cured of catarrh by Hyomei. If it does not help you, Hatch will return
the money you paid for Hyomei.

HOUSE PARTY.

A highly enjoyable social event was the house party recently given by Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Oliver, of Merritt, which culminated in a Halloween party on Monday evening. The hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver and family is well known, and needless to say, those present on this occasion enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent.

On Monday evening the members of the house party and several other guests were most delightfully entertained at the Oliver home by Dr. and Mrs. J. C. West, who are soon to leave Merritt for their new home in Chicago. The guests were met at the door by the host and hostess, led through the dim and fearful mysteries of spook hall and after being robed in ghostly apparel, they were ushered into the parlor, which was beautifully decorated with festoons of tissue paper, branches of autumn leaves and lighted only by jacko'-lanterns.

After all the masked and ghostlike figures had assembled in the parlor, each was given pencil and paper and allowed twenty minutes in which to guess the identity of the others. Then came the spook march and the telling of ghost stories. After the guests had mimicked, came the fortune-telling, the candle-blowing, etc., whereby those who did not already know their fate were soon enlightened. Cypher and apple contests, the former for the ladies and the latter for the gentlemen, afforded no little amusement.
Those who won prizes were: Misses Persis Hawk and Anna Watson;
Messrs. Allen Oliver and Norman Campbell. Delicious refreshments were served in true Hallowe'en fashion, the sandwiches and cakes in elegant pumpkin dishes and chicken salad in shells of cabbage leaves.

The evening was delightful in every particular and Dr. and Mrs. West are certainly most admirable entertainers.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs.
Norman Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Will
Hart, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. J. C. West,
Misses Persis Hawk, Ella Hawk,
Mary Oliver, Ida Kelley, Ruth Oliver,
Georgia Hawk, Beth Oliver, Messrs.
Wirt Morris, Arthur Huddleston,
James Parks, Albert Hawk and Allen
Oliver, of Merritt; Miss Anna Watson, of Jacksonville; Mr. Jess Gillman, of Riggston; Arthur Egan, of Chapin, and Dr. and Mrs. Albert R.
Trapp, of Springfield.

Window Cleaning Chair.
An inventor has designed a window cleaning chair which affords a really comfortable seat on the sill instead of the precarious hold now afforded. This invention comprises a seat and back rest unlike those of an ordinary chair, the back being extended downward to engage the outside wall of the house beneath the window. The front edge of the seat is provided with a pair of hooks, which curve downward against the wall and afford a firm hold for the chair. It is certain that a feeling of greater security will be the accompaniment of this chair, and it may also induce a more frequent cleaning of the windows.

To Remove Stains on Marble.
Stains on marble slabs that may come from medicine or other fluids may be removed by the following application:
If ammonia will not affect them: One-quarter pound of soft soap, one-quarter pound of powdered whiting, one ounce of carbon soda and a small piece of bluestone. Rub together about twenty minutes, rub over the surface of the marble while hot and leave twenty-four hours. Clean off with soap and water and polish with a rough flannel.

Soup From Chicken Feet.
After separating the feet from the fowl immerse them in scalding water for a few moments, then pour out the water and quickly skin them. The tough yellow skin should peel off without trouble, even the horny covering of the nails. Now put the feet in a saucepan and cover with cold water, letting them simmer until all the goodness is extracted. This makes a delicious chicken jelly when cold.—Good Housekeeping.

Medicine Cures.
Serious hemorrhage often follows the extraction of teeth. To stop the bleeding make a saturated solution of tannin in alcohol and place a plug of absorbent cotton wet in this solution in the cavity. Place between the teeth or jaws a piece of cork or roll of cotton, thick enough to bring pressure on the wound when the teeth are closed.

Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs and colds; reliable, tried and tested, safe and sure. For sale by J. A.

BRILLIANT RECITAL

Miss Mary Hester Cleary De-lights Large Audience at Conservatory Hall.

Miss Mary H. Cleary gave a brilliant elocutionary recital at Conservatory hall last evening, which was heard by a large and delighted audience. The gifted lady was assisted by Miss Bertha Anderson, soprano, and Mr. Arthur Carriel, violinist, who were given a good share of the applause.

The different numbers of the varied program gave excellent opportunity for the display of the versatile powers of Miss Cleary, and in all she showed herself to be an elocutionist of rare ability and the mistress of a wide range of expression. She excelled particularly in impersonation and adapted herself perfectly to her characters. Each number was given a good hand, the selection entitled "Mrs. Deborah has a Visitor" being especially well received, the audience becoming very demonstrative in their applause.

The gathering was a representative one and their approval of the splendid exhibition of elocutionary powers was unqualified. The program was as follows:

- "A Quarter Interest" (by request).....Anon
- "The Two Churches of Quawket".....H. C. Bunker
- "Love and Life".....Hall Caine
- "Danza" (violin obligato).....Chadwick Miss Anderson
- "An Object of Love".....Mary E. Wilkins
- "The Mustard Plaster".....Howard Fielding
- "Mrs. Deborah has a Visitor".....May Isabel Fisk
- "Sing Me to Sleep".....Edwin Green Miss Anderson
- "Ma Moiselle".....Anon

Accompanist—Miss Margaret Wid-cham.

AT THE GRAND

Edward N. Hoyt Presented "Hamlet" One of Shakespeare's Greatest Tragedies—Small Audience—Story of Play

Edward N. Hoyt presented "Hamlet, Prince of Denmark," at the Grand Wednesday night before a small, but enthusiastic audience. His interpretation of the difficult part was extremely artistic and fully up to any performance previously seen in this city. The various soliloquies were given in a manner showing a keen insight into the meaning, and his enunciation was excellent. He received a curtain call after each act. Miss Fannie Hoyt, as Ophelia, gave entire satisfaction and display splendid ability in her delineation of this well known character. The supporting cast was not especially strong, but on the whole the play was fairly well staged.

Mr. Hoyt has never appeared here before in a Shakespearean role, but his ability as an actor is unquestioned and his future on the dramatic stage should certainly be a brilliant one. "Hamlet," one of Shakespeare's greatest tragedies, has created more discussion among critics and Shakespearean students than any other play. Immense volumes have been written and yet the most important points are in doubt. It has such a depth of meaning that scholars are constantly finding out some new phase.

The exact date of writing is unknown. The first record of the play, as written by Shakespeare, is on the register's book in 1602. No edition was published in that year, but in 1603 the first quarto appeared, an imperfect copy probably stolen for some unscrupulous publisher by a stenographer while it was being played at the theatre.

The modern texts of "Hamlet" are based upon the second quarto and the first folio, which was printed in 1623. "Was Prince Hamlet mad?" is a question critics have wrangled over since the play was written. The problem is insoluble, but to imagine that he was mad is to destroy esthetic qualities and the motive of the entire work.

Prince Hamlet, who is a student of philosophic turn, is suddenly called upon to revenge the death of his father. His moral nature and sensitive temperament revolt against the deed. He determines to perform it, however, but lacks the resolution to put it into effect. By this neglect of his duty his own and many other innocent lives are sacrificed. Hamlet attracts us because we see in him ourselves. He is not an example of the Elizabethan era like Laertes, but of the present, and of all time to come.

At a meeting of the directors of the Jacksonville National bank it was duly.

We hereby tender to the family and relatives our truest sympathy in their bereavement.

Julius E. Strawn, Henry Oakes, J. R. Robertson, Committee.

AFTERNOON RECEPTION.

Mrs. Albert H. Rankin was the hostess Wednesday afternoon at a very pretty reception at Kilmarnock in honor of Mrs. Fred H. Rankin, of Champaign, and Miss Maud Munson, of Deunion, Texas. The guest list was large, about 100 being present during the afternoon.

The residence was beautifully decorated for the occasion, yellow and white being the prevailing colors, and the autumn effect was given by the liberal use of autumn leaves and chrysanthemums. The color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments, which were served in faultless style.

ODD FELLOWS

Grand Lodge Meets in Springfield the 15th—Few Contests—Review of the Year.

Illinois Odd Fellows will hold the sixty-seventh session of the grand lodge at Springfield beginning two weeks from yesterday, the 15th. The grand lodge, grand encampment and Rebekahs will meet in conjunction.

Efforts will be made to defeat Mrs. Lola Rickard, superintendent of the Old Folks' home at Mattoon. The lodge in that city has adopted a resolution instructing the Mattoon representative to use all honorable means to secure a male superintendent for the home and a matron who shall be his wife, daughter or sister.

Mrs. Rickard, the present superintendent, has been in charge about three years, succeeding D. S. Baldwin. Her regime has been sustained by the board of trustees, although it is said that some complaints have been made.

Opponents of Mrs. Rickard argue that a man is better suited for manager of such an institution and that there should be a matron, too, to make conditions perfect. Under the present arrangement it is said the superintendent is virtually the matron as well. Friends of Mrs. Rickard declare that she has been a competent official, painstaking and worthy, and for these reasons should be retained.

The only contest for offices thus far known will be for warden of the three branches. Each of the present wardens will be advanced. It is not believed that Sikes will have any opposition for secretary. Mrs. Mary P. Miller, of Springfield, secretary of the Rebekah assembly, also will likely be re-elected.

The opening session of the grand lodge will be held Tuesday evening, Nov. 15. A special session of the grand lodge will be held the same afternoon in representatives' hall for the purpose of conferring the grand lodge degree on all qualified members who may present themselves. All the sessions of the grand lodge will be held in representatives' hall. The headquarters of the grand officers will be at the Leland hotel. The Veterans' Odd Fellows' association will hold its fifteenth annual meeting at a time and place to be announced.

The total membership of the grand lodge since the last report is 71,177. The number of lodges is 895. The sum of $220,325.91 has been paid out for relief. The total receipts are for the year $651,064.32, and the total expenditures $535,185.56. The net worth of the subordinate lodges in Illinois is $2,173,358.51. A gain of 3,127 has been made in membership in the last year. The gain in the last nine years has been 18,420.

There are 60 Rebekah lodges in the state, with a membership of 35,159. The total receipts for the year amount to $104,407.19. The sum of $47,005.63 has been disbursed, while the total assets amount to $57,401.56. A net gain in membership of 2,494 has been made by the Rebekahs the past year and the total gain for nine years has been 14,118.

Since the last session of the grand lodge dispensations have been issued for eleven subordinate and fourteen Rebekah lodges.

It is impossible to fully appreciate the real assistance of cushion sole shoes until you have given them a thorough trial, instead of the constant tread on a hard piece of sole, your foot rests on a piece of heavy wool covered over with a light piece of leather. No wonder they are easy.
